Britec Merges with Quality

Combined Company to Deliver Industry-Defining Information Systems for Efficient, Effective Solutions

Calgary, Alberta – October 1, 2006 – Britec Computer Systems Ltd. today merges with Quality Directions Inc.

The combination of Britec and Quality will provide customers a more powerful set of solutions for creating, managing and delivering information systems across the best of operating systems, accounting software, hardware, programming tools and utilities. Together, the two companies will meet a wider set of customer needs and have a significantly greater opportunity to expand into existing markets, particularly in the small to medium sized businesses.

“Customers are calling for integrated software solutions from one vendor that enables them to process daily business events and provide rich information to management with efficiency, effectiveness and economy,” said Roger Katarey, President of Britec. “By combining skills of our senior consultants, programmers, knowledge and experience – along with industry leading software and hardware – Britec can realize this vision better.”

In the combined company, Katarey will continue as President and Kim Melus will remain Vice President, Marketing and Sales. Cheryl Geske, President of Quality, will join Britec as Senior Vice President. Darcy Quast, Vice President of Quality, will join Britec as Vice President of Operations.

“Both Quality and Britec are passionate about customer service, delivering the best solutions of its class and enabling great experiences by the user and business,” said Cheryl Geske, President of Quality. “Our combined organization will be a powerful force in accurate and complete solutions.”

Integration

The two companies are developing integration plans that use the best business and analysis, implementation, and maintenance practices from each company.
